

HANDBOOK FOR GRANDPARENTS:

RAISING GRANDCHILDREN IN NORTHEAST MICHIGAN

DEVELOPED BY:

Region 9 Area Agency on Aging

The NEMCSA Region 9 Area Agency on Aging (AAA) is pleased to provide you with this handbook of helpful materials and publications directed towards Kinship Care providers.

Kinship care is the full-time care, nurturing, and protection of children by relatives, members of their tribes or clans, godparents, stepparents, or any adult who has a kinship bond with a child. Currently, about 36% of the foster care placements in Michigan are with relatives.

The cost of raising one or more children can be overwhelming. Along with food, clothing, medical bills, and school supplies, kinship families are also concerned about making long term plans for their grandchildren. Many kinship providers are coping with health problems with an added emotional stress that arises from the expansion of their household.

The materials provided in this handbook are designed to offer kinship care providers with resources and information. We hope you find this handbook a helpful resource.

Kind Regards

Laurie L. Sauer

Proper Child Safety Seat Use Chart

This chart is a quick guide on where to start your search. It is important to continue your research to learn about each seat you use.

| Types of Car Seats at a Glance | | |
|--------------------------------|-----------------------------|---|
| Age-Group | Type of Seat | General Guidelines |
| Infants and Toddlers | Rear-facing-only | All infants and toddlers should ride in a rear-facing seat until they reach the highest weight or height allowed by their car seat manufacturer. Most convertible seats have limits that will allow children to ride rear facing for two years or more. |
| | Rear-facing-convertible | |
| Toddlers and Preschoolers | Forward-facing convertible | Children who have outgrown the rear-facing weight or height limit for their convertible seat should use a forward-facing seat with a harness for as long as possible, up to the highest weight or height allowed by their car seat manufacturer. Many seats can accommodate children up to 65 pounds or more. |
| | Forward-facing with harness | |
| School-Aged Children | Booster | All children whose weight or height exceeds the forward-facing limit for their car safety seat should use a belt-positioning booster seat until the vehicle seat belt fits properly, typically when they have reached 4 feet 9 inches in height and are 8 through 12 years of age. All children younger than 13 years should ride in the back seat. |
| Older Children | Seat belts | When children are old enough and large enough for the vehicle seat belt to fit them correctly, they should always use lap and shoulder seat belts for the best protection. All children younger than 13 years should ride in the back seat. |

SAFETY TIPS:

- Keep kids rear-facing for as long as possible.
- Make sure everyone in the car is buckled up.
- Keep the car seat straps snug.
- Do not start using a booster seat too soon and do not stop using a booster seat too soon.
- The center seat is generally the safest spot in the car for kids.
- After you install your child's car seat, have it checked by a trained technician.
- Remember car seats expire.
- Do not text or talk on the phone while driving.

Legal

Below are some different legal options.

INFORMAL KINSHIP

Informal kinship care includes relatives who take care of other family members children without a formal, legal arrangement. Parents maintain legal custody and rights of the children regardless of level of emotional and financial support.

ADOPTION

Adoption is the process of gaining permanent legal custody. Adoption ends all of the birth parents' rights and responsibilities, which means that birth parents cannot go to court later and reclaim those rights and responsibilities. This makes access to services on behalf of the child the same as for any parent.

POWER OF ATTORNEY

Signing a Power of Attorney, parents legally grant relatives the authority to raise the children, without the involvement of an attorney.

GUARDIANSHIP

Guardianship does not take away all the birth parents rights and responsibilities. However, Guardianship allows access to services on behalf of the child that otherwise might not happen without changing family relationships legally. Birth parents keep certain rights and the obligation to financially support the child. Unlike adoption, the birth-parents can go back to court and ask for the guardianship to be ended.

LEGAL CUSTODY

Custody is gaining legal rights and responsibility through a Family Court. Change in custody requires a formal hearing in the court.

Financial Help

There are two types of Family Independence Program (FIP) Grants:

- 1. Ineligible Grantee Awards (Child Only Grants) are available for the child regardless of household income. A foster child's income (Supplemental Security Income [SSI], Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance [RSDI], etc.) is not included in the household income and will reduce the award amount.
- 2. Eligible Grantee Awards (Family Grants) are based on the income and assets of all family members. To remain eligible, relative caregivers must work unless they provide proof of disability or are older than 65 years old.

How do I apply for the Family Independence Program (FIP)?

The Assistance Application, DHS-1171 is available at local MDHHS offices or you can apply online at www.michigan.gov/mibridges.

How will I get Medical Care for the Child?

If children do not have medical coverage through a private insurance, they will be covered by Medicaid.

CHILD ONLY GRANT

- The Child Only Grant is not through MDHHS.
- The Child Only Grant is available for children who are being raised by a relative who is not a biological parent.
- This financial assistance is based on the child's income and assets; not the caregiver's.
- More information about the Child Only Grant can be found in the Relative Caregiving: What You Need to Know brochure.

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) has multiple assistance programs that exist to help individuals in need. MDHHS provides cash assistance, food assistance, child care assistance, and medical assistance to eligible individuals. Eligibility is based on need/income level for the majority of these programs. More information about these programs can be found in the paragraphs below and at MI Bridges.
